

Accessible Holiday Destination Guide

Bundaberg

Bundaberg Rum Distillery

The Bundaberg region is a diverse and inviting tourist destination known for its pristine beaches and proximity to the Southern Great Barrier Reef. Visitors can relax on beautiful beaches and explore the region, including witnessing the nesting and hatching of loggerhead turtles at Mon Repos Conservation Park. The area also offers farmers' markets, and farm-to-table dining opportunities, thanks to its thriving sugar cane plantations and farms. History enthusiasts can explore the region's heritage through historic buildings, art galleries, and attractions like the Hinkler Hall of Aviation, dedicated to aviator Bert Hinkler. Charming towns like Childers offer well-preserved architecture and a glimpse into the past.

GETTING THERE

By Air

The Bundaberg Airport (BDB) serves domestic flights from major cities like Brisbane and other regional centres. Qantas Link, Link Airways and Bonza operate regular flights to Bundaberg, making it a convenient choice for those travelling from distant locations. There is designated disabled parking close to the terminal building. Disabled toilet facilities are available both within the secure area and in the luggage claim hall.

By Car

The city is well-connected via the Bruce Highway (A1) from Brisbane, which is approximately a 4 to 5-hour drive.

By Train

Direct train services to Bundaberg from Brisbane are operated by the tilt train and the Spirit of Queensland. Both trains are accessible and have on board accessible toilet facilities.

Queensland Government

By Bus

Several regional and long-distance bus operators offer routes connecting Bundaberg to nearby towns and major cities like Brisbane. For full time wheelchair users Greyhound operate an easy access coach on some services. There are limitations of wheelchair size and type that can be accommodated. A minimum of 24 hours advanced notice is required.

Visitor Information Centre

The Bundaberg Visitor Information Centre, located on Avenue Street in the East Bundaberg tourism precinct, is conveniently close to the Bundaberg Rum Visitor Experience and Bundaberg Brewed Drinks Barrel. The centre offers friendly and knowledgeable staff who provide maps, brochures, itineraries, and guides for the region's attractions, as well as assistance with booking accommodations, tours, and activities. It provides accessible parking and an accessible entrance for disabled visitors, a well-organized layout for easy access to information, and clear indicators for accessible attractions. Additionally, accessible toilets are available on-site.

PLACES TO GO

Bundaberg Rum Distillery

The Bundaberg Rum Distillery in Australia is the largest of its kind and offers two main tours:

The Bundaberg Rum Museum Experience: This is a self-guided tour that explores the history of Bundaberg Rum and the distillery.

The Distillery Experience: This guided tour takes visitors behind the scenes to witness the rum-making process and learn about the various types of rum produced.

The distillery also features a large store offering Bundaberg Rum and a variety of merchandise, including clothing, homewares, and gifts. Visitors can enjoy the tasting bar on-site.

For accessibility, there is designated disabled parking right in front of the building entrance, and the car park and footpath leading to the entrance are level and accessible. The distillery is ramped throughout, including the museum, gift shop, café, and bar. The museum has low-level displays with pictorial and written information, and the factory tour path consists of asphalt, hard sand, and concrete with ramps. For those unable to manage steps, there is a viewing window for the molasses storage vat. The café offers spacious seating with accessible tables, and the gift shop is well-organized with wide aisles and reachable merchandise. Accessible toilets are available, and the distillery accepts the Companion Card for its tour options.

Bundaberg Rum Distillery

Bundaberg Rum Distillery

The Barrel — Bundaberg Brewed Drinks

The Bundaberg Brewed Beverage Company is an Australian company known for its production of non-alcoholic beverages, particularly its ginger beer. It has a retail outlet, self-guided tour and tasting experience that takes you through the history of Bundaberg Brewed Beverages.

Designated disabled parking is available in the car park behind the building. A concrete path leads from the car park to the front of the building which is entered through a wide self opening door. The museum entry is through a wide door. The museum provides both an overview on the modern brewing and process and information on the history of Bundaberg Brewed Beverages. A central aisle leads through the museum with an exit at the back leading back into the store. An accessible toilet at the back of the building is off the rear courtyard. The retail store is wide with easy to access stock that covers the full range of products produced by Bundaberg Brewed Beverages. The entire facility is navigable by people using mobility assistance devices.

Hinkler Hall of Aviation

Hinkler Hall of Aviation

The Hinkler Hall of Aviation is a museum honouring Australian aviation pioneer Bert Hinkler, showcasing various exhibitions and artefacts. It offers designated disabled parking in front, with easy access via a concrete path leading to a wide entrance door. Inside, the museum is thoughtfully designed with wide aisles and good visual contrast to aid those with low vision. Most displays are visual, with informative boards containing both pictures and text.

While Bert Hinkler's house replica has steps and narrow doorways, there's an audio-visual presentation and virtual tour of the house.

Bundaberg Botanic Gardens

Bundaberg Botanic Gardens

The Bundaberg Botanic Gardens cover 27 hectares and offer a sub-tropical botanical experience situated in Bundaberg North, adjacent to the Hinkler Hall of Aviation. Guided tours of the gardens are available, and the garden entrance is conveniently located in front of the Hinkler House.

The central path in the garden has steps at different levels. However, circular ramped paths on either side of the central path provide access to the lower level and a scenic walk around the lake. The paths are paved with well-maintained brick.

Near the main car park at the top of the garden, you'll find a café with level, wide-open access. Next to the café, there's an accessible toilet facility for visitors convenience.

Bundaberg Riverwalk

Riverwalk

The Bundaberg Riverwalk is a 3-kilometre waterfront path connecting Alexandra Park Zoo to the River Cruz Café. This wheelchair-accessible walkway features benches, viewing platforms, artworks, and sculptures for an engaging and visually interesting experience. It's especially beautiful at sunset. The path is consistently smooth and level. At the River Cruz end, there's a ramp from the river to the car park, with designated disabled parking available nearby.

Alexandra Park Zoo

The Alexandra Park Zoo, located in the heart of Bundaberg, offers a diverse range of animal exhibits, allowing visitors to closely observe native and exotic species. Interactive displays and informative signage enhance the educational experience. The zoo provides designated disabled parking at the entrance, with a level concrete path leading to the zoo. Inside, all paths are wide, concrete, and provide easy viewing of animal displays. Across from the zoo is a parkland area with accessible amenities, including toilets, a drinking fountain, barbecues, and picnic tables. The park's playground includes accessible features, such as a wheelchair roundabout, for all to enjoy.

Bourbong Street

Bourbong Street, the primary thoroughfare in Bundaberg, is a bustling hub featuring an array of shops, restaurants, and cafés. The street's appeal lies in its charming and historic atmosphere, thanks to the presence of heritage-listed buildings.

The town centre has recently undergone revitalization efforts, resulting in broad, level sidewalks and easy access to most shops and cafés along the main street. Disabled parking spaces are conveniently located at regular intervals, including in front of the council offices. Additionally, the wide median strip provides a safe and accessible way to cross the street.

Alowishus Delicious

Alowishus Delicious was conceived as a space fostering connections within the community, among families, friends, and clients.

The café earned recognition as the Countrywide Café of the Year in both 2018 and 2019, underscoring its pursuit of excellence in the industry. The café has wide entry from the street. The café has a wide aisle with a row of tables and chairs against the wall. The chairs and tables are moveable.

Burnett Riverside Hotel

The Burnett Riverside Hotel is a 3 star hotel perched on the banks of the Burnett River and offers stunning views of the water. It has a swimming pool, gym, and restaurant with a riverfront deck. It is a short walk from the hotel to many of Bundaberg's attractions, including the Bundaberg central business district and right next to the ramp leading down to the River Walk.

The hotel has one wheelchair accessible room on the ground floor directly off the main reception desk. There is a ramp that leads down onto the deck that overlooks the river. The tables and chairs are all moveable. There is an accessible toilet located off the courtyard from the bar area. Parking is available.

Kalki Moon Distillery

Kalki Moon Distillery

Kalki Moon is a small artisan distillery that produces a range of spirits, including gin, rum, and vodka. The gin is made with botanicals from the Bundaberg region. The rum is made from molasses, which is fermented and then distilled. The vodka is made from wheat and water.

Kalki Moon offers tours and tastings of their spirits. Parking is available directly in front of the venue on a concrete apron. Entry is level. Once inside the venue is spacious with a smooth concrete floor. Much of the seating is high top with bar stools. There are a couple of lower tables near the performance stage. There are no accessible toilet facilities at the venue.

Waves Sports Club

The Waves Sports Club is located in Norville and offers a range of facilities, including a bar, restaurant, function rooms, and sporting fields.

Designated accessible parking is available in front of the building with direct access to the main entrance. Entry is through double self opening doors with the reception being directly inside to the right. The venue is large and open and all on one level. All of the chairs are moveable throughout the venue. At the back of space is an accessible toilet facility. It has side and rear grab rails together with a back rest. The venue also has a quiet space and breast feeding room and full change facilities.

Bargara

Bargara is situated along the Coral Coast, approximately 13 kilometres east of the centre of Bundaberg. It overlooks the Coral Sea and is characterized by its sandy beaches, rocky headlands, and a subtropical climate. The main centre is on the Esplanade and Bauer Street. Designated disabled parking is available on the Esplanade. There are several cafés with curb side dining. The footpaths all have curb cuts with wide level entry into most of the cafés and stores along the Esplanade and Bauer Street.

Windmill Café

Windmill Café

A unique dining experience is the Windmill Café in See Street. The café is located in a restored windmill, which gives it a unique and charming setting. There is also a large outdoor seating area that is perfect for enjoying a meal on a sunny day. Parking is available in the adjacent car park. The side entry path has level access. Seating is available both inside the building and in the garden. All furniture is moveable. Entry to the building has level access and the doors are wide.

Turtle Park

Turtle Park

One of the unique features of Bargara is the foreshore Turtle Park. It pays homage to the unique turtles of the Coral Coast and is themed around a gigantic turtle.

All surfaces are ramped and the entire play space is rubberised. There are a variety of cognitive and tactile play elements. There is an accessible toilet in the park. In addition to the play space, there is a large deck area with tables and benches giving commanding views across the Coral Sea. The park contains accessible picnic tables and an accessible barbecue.

Christsen Park

Christsen Park

The park is located on the Esplanade, which provides stunning views of the ocean. It is located just south of Bargara town centre on the point and has a playground with many cognitive play elements including a mini café.

Kellys Beach

Kellys Beach is about 600 meters long and is lined with casuarina trees. The water is shallow and calm. At the southern end of the beach near the causeway is a small car park.

There are two designated disabled parking spots and a concrete ramp that leads down to the beach and the small inlet. The ramp ends on soft sand. The car park on the other side of the inlet has steps down to the beach.

The Turtle Tales Immersive Experience is a ticketed experience with interactive displays and a theatre. The story of loggerhead turtles is told through film, light, and soundscapes.

The Mon Repos Turtle Centre and all of its activities are wheelchair accessible, including front row spaces for wheelchair users in the theatre. There is a north and south boardwalk through the vegetation to the beach.

Both are accessible to the beach. Both have short but relatively steep ramps onto the sand.

Within the centre is the Milbi Café and a gift shop. There are accessible toilet facilities behind the reception desk. There is a quiet space located within the discovery experience.

Nielson Park Beach

Nielson Park Beach

Nielson Park Beach is located in Bargara. It is backed by a palm lined foreshore reserve that houses the Bundaberg Surf Life Saving Club, a picnic area and extensive parking. The beach is fringed at either end by extensive basalt rock flats, which at low tide contain large tidal pools. The beach is patrolled during the summer months.

Bundaberg Port Marina

The beach has a concrete access ramp and during the summer months beach matting is rolled out by the Surf Life Saving Club. A beach wheelchair is available from the club. Accessible toilets are available on the outside of the lifesaving club building. Accessible picnic tables and barbecues are available in the park behind the beach.

Burnett Heads

Bundaberg Port Marina

The Bundaberg Port Marina is a modern marina located in Burnett Heads. The marina has a wide range of facilities, including berths for boats of all sizes, a boatyard, a chandlery, a restaurant, and a bar. The marina is located on the Burnett River, which provides easy access to the Great Barrier Reef and other popular fishing and boating destinations.

Designated disabled parking is available in the car park in front of the marina. A wide concrete path leads to the marina building. Small ramps provide access to the restaurant, gift shop and chandlery. Concrete paths also lead to the edge of the marina and ramps down to the berths. An accessible toilet is located next to the gift shop.

The Lady Musgrave Experience

The Lady Musgrave Experience is a multi-award winning, advanced eco-certified Great Barrier Reef tour operator. They depart daily from Bundaberg and their flagship experience is a full-day tour to Lady Musgrave Island Lagoon onboard their luxury 35 metre Catamaran Reef Express. Lady Musgrave Island is surrounded by a navigable reef lagoon brimming with marine life and colourful coral. The island is known for its resident turtles, manta rays, migrating humpback whales, fantastic visibility and no stingers all year round.

The main ticket office is in Bargara. The voyages sail from Burnett Heads Marina. The Reef Express has significant limitations for people with a disability. The gangway only connects the small lower rear deck to the pontoon. To enter the main cabin stairs must be navigated to get to the main deck level. There are small steps into the main saloon of the vessel and to the toilet on the outside deck. Once inside, the cabin is large and there is plenty of space around the servery level. At Musgrave HQ, the floating pontoon at the island, the deck level and the pontoon level are the same, allowing for easy access onto the pontoon. There are no lifts available for access into the water. The toilet on the Reef Express does have grab rails but the room is small.

Lighthouse Hotel

Lighthouse Hotel

The Lighthouse Hotel is located in the Burnett Heads, only a 10 minute walk from the Port Marina. The hotel has eight rooms, all of which are air-conditioned and have a TV. None of the rooms are wheelchair accessible. The hotel has a bistro that is open seven days a week for lunch and dinner.

Designated disabled parking is available right in front of the hotel. Entry to the hotel is through a self opening wide door. Seating in the sports bar is high top tables. The bistro has low tables with moveable seating. An accessible toilet is off the main bar. In addition, the main inside eating areas there is a beer garden with movable furniture and long tables on the footpath.

South Head Parklands

The South Head Parklands is a large park located on the waterfront at Burnett Heads. The parklands have a playground, a skate park, a BMX track, and a dog park. There are also walking and cycling paths, and picnic areas.

The playground has several accessible features including a wheelchair roundabout and cognitive play panels. There are accessible picnic tables in a shaded pavilion and a roll-under accessible barbecue. Concrete paths run through the park and the play surfaces are rubberised. There are no accessible toilet facilities at South Head Park.

Elliott Heads

Life Savers Park

Life Savers Park is in Elliott Heads, on the Coral Coast, about 20 kilometres south of Bundaberg. The park has a playground, picnic areas, and a barbecue area.

Designated disabled parking spaces are available in the car park which is asphalt. A concrete path leads to an observation deck that overlooks the beach. The path continues down to the soft sand of the beach. Beach access is also possible at the Life Saving Club. From a concrete path in front of the club, the path is soft sand through the coastal vegetation onto the beach which is patrolled during the summer months.

Driftwood Café

Right on the headland is the Driftwood Café.

There is parking next to the café with designated disabled spaces and level entry to the café from the car park. There are accessible tables in the front of the café.

Tinaberries

Tinaberries is a strawberry farm located in Woongarra. Tinaberries offers a number of activities, such as pick-your-own strawberries, strawberry ice cream, and a strawberry fairy garden.

There is designated disabled parking right at the end of the car park nearest the store building. The car park is gravel and there is a gentle slope from the car park to the building. Entry to the building is through a wide door with level entry. The outdoor area is all hard packed grass. There is seating at the main building and in the old shed. There are no accessible toilet facilities at the farm, the nearest being 10 minutes drive away at Elliott Heads.

Snakes Downunder

Snakes Downunder is a reptile park located in Childers. The park has a collection of over 200 snakes, including venomous and non-venomous snakes. There are also a number of other reptiles, such as lizards, turtles, and crocodiles. The park offers a variety of educational programs, including snake shows, feeding demonstrations, and educational talks. There is also a snake handling course for adults.

There is designated disabled parking at the end of the car park nearest the entry gate. Entry is up a narrow concrete path. The paths through the park are all a fine hard packed gravel. The crocodile enclosure is surrounded by a timber boardwalk for viewing the feeding sessions. The guardrail is wire mesh providing good viewing for people of all heights including seated wheelchair users. The reptile enclosure has glass fronted enclosures providing excellent viewing opportunities. Towards the rear of the park is a series of enclosures containing meerkats, komodo dragons and other reptiles. These enclosures are either glass fronted or have low walls for easy viewing. At the eastern end of the park is the kangaroo paddock. Wheelchair access is through a side gate into the enclosure. The paddock is natural clay earth with a pasture topping.

It is relatively flat. A small accessible toilet is available at the park, but it does not have room at the side for wheelchair transfers. There are large picnic tables with large over hanging ends.

Macadamias Australia

Macadamias Australia is a family-owned and operated macadamia nut farm located in Bundaberg. Take a tour of the farm through the macadamia orchards and the processing facility. The tasting room offers a variety of macadamia nuts and other products made from macadamia nuts.

Designated disabled parking is available immediately opposite the entry in the main car park. From the car park to the main building is a 300 metre concrete pathway with a gentle upward slope. The main building is entered through double self opening doors. The tour desk is immediately inside the building. There is an interactive display area as well as a large viewing window into the chocolate room. Also in the main complex is the café and farm shop. The entire main building is well laid out with ample room between the display and the tables of the cafés. The chairs and tables are movable. Most of the tour is conducted on concrete paths.

The self guided walk is on hard packed grass between the groves of trees. It should be noted, that this is an active macadamia farm and visitors with nut allergies would need to exercise caution. Accessible toilets are located in the main building.

The Mystery Craters

The Mystery Craters are a group of 35 oddly shaped craters located in South Kolan. The craters range in size from a few meters to over 20 meters in diameter. They are all roughly circular in shape and have a depth of up to 3 meters.

Parking is available in front of the entrance. The car park is gravel. Entry to the building and small café is through a wide door. The main building also houses a fossil and gem display in large glass fronted cabinets. From the building to the craters is a concrete path. Visitors can walk around the craters perimeter on a hard packed grass surface. The protective fence is wire mesh providing a good view for visitors of all heights and from a seated wheelchair position. There is large fibreglass dinosaur on the grassed area. There is an accessible toilet at the back of the building.

Gin Gin Historic Village

The Gin Gin Historical Village is a living museum located in Gin Gin. The village has a number of buildings, including a schoolhouse, a church, a general store, and a blacksmith's shop. There are also a number of artefacts on display, including furniture, clothing, and household items. The village is staffed by volunteers who dress in period costume and give demonstrations of old-fashioned skills, such as blacksmithing and weaving.

Gin Gin Historic Village

There is a small gravel car park. There is no designated disabled parking. The surface is fine crushed rock. A gravel roadway leads through the village with displays of old machinery along its edge. Most of the buildings have either level access from the grass verge of the driveway or have ramped access.

Splitters Farm

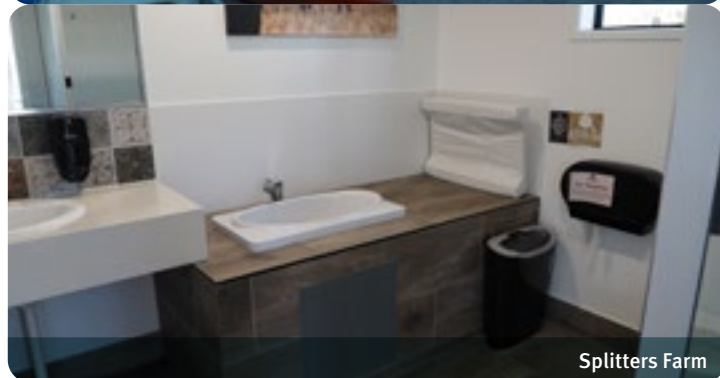

Splitters Farm is a working farm located in Sharon, a 15 minute drive from Bundaberg. The farm is home to a variety of animals, including horses, cows, pigs, sheep, chickens, and ducks. The animals are all rescued from situations where they were neglected, abused, or abandoned. Splitters Farm offers a number of educational programs and activities, such as farm tours, animal encounters, and volunteer opportunities. The farm also has a café and a gift shop.

The paths through the day visit area are all fine hard packed gravel with stone edging. The edging is a high contrast to the light coloured gravel giving a good visual reference for people with low vision. The slopes on the paths through the farm are gently undulating. An accessible toilet is available.

Splitters Farm offers a variety of accommodation options, including eco safari tents, powered sites, and unpowered sites. The eco safari tents are fully equipped with bathroom and kitchen facilities, and they offer stunning views of the creek and dam. At this stage, none of the tents have ramped access. The Angus tent has an extra large bathroom with grab rails and a shower seat that is suited to people with limited mobility, but the tent has five steps to access the entry. The main entry door is wide. There are powered sites for caravans, campervans, and tents, and they come with a power connection and access to amenities, such as toilets, showers, and laundry facilities. The farm also has four retro on site caravans. They do not have a power connection, but they do come with access to amenities, such as toilets, showers, and laundry facilities.

Splitters Farm

Splitters Farm

The amenities block has a full wheelchair accessible shower and toilet. The shower is equipped with a fold down shower seat and grab rails. In addition, there is a parenting bathroom equipped with a shower and baby bath. It also has its own toilet. Being a working farm all service dogs must be fully registered. Guests have an option of mobile check-in. The grazing station camp kitchen has eight park bench style tables and seats allowing for wheelchair access at each table.

Taribelang Bunda Cultural Tours

Taribelang Bunda Cultural Tours is an Indigenous-owned and operated tour company that offers a unique way to experience the culture and history of the Bundaberg region. The tours are led by local Aboriginal guides who share their knowledge and stories about the land, the people, and the culture. The tours visit a variety of sites of significance to the Taribelang people, including middens, bora grounds, and sacred waterholes. Guests also have the opportunity to learn about traditional Aboriginal customs and practices, such as bush tucker, boomerang making, and fire lighting. The immersive nature of the tours and the grounds over which the tours are conducted, soft sand and rocky terrain, makes these tours less suited for people of limited mobility. The business does have access to a wheelchair accessible van and can tailor an experience. The group has experience guiding visitors with low vision and the half day tour with the taste, smells and sound provide a unique accessible experience.

Woodgate Beach

Woodgate Beach Township

Woodgate Beach is a picturesque swimming beach.

A ramp provides access to the top of the soft sand. (Note access may be affected by beach erosion after severe weather). At the top of the ramp are an accessible toilet and accessible shower/change room with a fixed fold down shower bench. The beach side shelter has an accessible picnic table and barbecue.

Banksia Walking Track

The Banksia Walking Track is a 5.2 kilometre loop track located in the Woodgate section of the Burrum

Coast National Park at Woodgate Beach just behind the main township in Acacia Street.

The first section of the track is a boardwalk that winds through a Melaleuca wetland. This section of the track is wheelchair accessible. The path beyond the boardwalk is natural earth and in places the sand base is soft.

There are no steps on the circuit path. Power wheelchairs with large inflatable tyres or manual wheelchairs with a freewheel attachment could negotiate the path.

Walkers Point

10 kilometres south of the township is Walkers Point which has walking tracks to viewing and fishing platforms, and a bird hide. The bird hide track is 5.8 kilometres return. The first section of the track is smooth asphalt with the remainder being hard packed earth. Accessible picnic tables are available at Walkers Point.
