

Hi Matt,

Staff rotations occur across a range of offices, not just in Minister Stuckey's.

Thanks,
Ally

Hi Ally,

Can you clarify something in relation to the response on rotation policy question?
When you said "no", is that because there is no rotation policy in place in Minister Stuckey's office, or because there is a policy in place, but it is in place for several Ministers?

Thanks,

Matt Killoran

Hi Matt,

Please see answers below.

Cheers,
Ally

What was the reason for senior media advisor Peter McCarthy leaving Ms Stuckey's office?

Mr McCarthy has returned to Minister Elmes' office as was planned.

If it is part of a rotation, why is the former person who held that position (Lynnette Keep) not returning to that position, but heading to Minister Powell's office, as you stated on the phone?

Ms Keep has been appointed to fill a vacancy that arose in Minister Powell's office.

Is there a rotation policy in place specifically for Ms Stuckey's office, and not for other Minister's? If so why?

No.

Is the Minister concerned with the high level of turn over within her office? Why does she think this is the case?

No. Staff changes have been a result of a number of factors, including retirement, overseas employment opportunities, wanting to work closer to home and ordinary staff rotation. These circumstances are common in most workplaces.

I understand this makes at least 10 staff who have left her office, for a variety of reasons include one having their contract terminated, retirement, and transfer to other office. Would she like to comment on this?

See above comment.

Will Mr McCarthy be replaced? If so will it be through another rotation or will the position be advertised or filled by another means?

A new media adviser is in the process of being appointed.

RTI DL RELEASE - DTESB

1 – I understand last week senior policy adviser Peter Turnbull left the Minister's office and is now senior policy adviser with the Premier. What was the reason Mr Turnbull left?

Peter Turnbull was offered a promotion which he accepted.

2 – I understand in mid-2012 executive assistant to then-COS Mike D'Arcy, Alessia Maruca, had her contract terminated. What was the reason for this?

It would be inappropriate to comment on a former staff member's terms of employment.

3 – I understand complaints have been made to the head of the Government media unit Lee Anderson in relation to their treatment by the Minister. The complaints have been in relation to staff being called names, being "humiliated" in front of other staff members and having their ability to do their job repeatedly called in to question or denigrated. Would the Minister like to comment in relation to this?

This is a question you should put to Lee Anderson

4 – At least 12 staff have left her office, for a variety of reasons include one having their contract terminated, retirement, and transfer to other office. Would she like to comment on this?

As per yesterday's comment, these circumstances are common in most workplaces.
